

COLORADO'S PREMIER OUTFITTER

WILDERNESS DROP CAMP CHECKLIST

Action Adventures Supplies the Following

- Wall tents
- Tent floor tarps
- Propane heaters
- Cook stove
- Tent lights
- Complete portable kitchen
- Dining table and chairs
- Cots
- Axe, saw, shovel, 5 gallon water container

Items You Should Bring

- Personal gear listed on weapon specific checklist
- Trash Bags
- Paper towels
- Toilet paper
- Ziploc bags
- Towels and soap both dish and hand
- First aid kit
- Game bags, knife, meat saw
- Food

Food is to be packed in by horse so it should be light with fragile item cushioned. Freeze dried foods work excellent.

- Clothes packed in 1 army style duffel bag not to exceed 50 pounds. No oversize bags will be packed in.
- 48 quart coolers or small storage tote boxes maximum size: 21.5" long x 15.5" wide x 12" tall. You are allowed 1 duffel bag, 1 sleeping bag, 1 small foam pad, and one tote box or cooler each. Odd number groups are allowed 1 extra box. (3 hunters 4 boxes)
- Ask about topo maps or google earth placemarks for your camp.

It is your responsibility to skin, quarter, cape and have your harvested game accessible to a pack string. All game must be skinned, put in game bags, and hung where it is cool, to keep meat from spoiling. If all of these procedures are followed you game will keep for several days even in the warmest weather. Game that is not taken care of properly will be reported to the local warden. Your camp will be checked on every 2 to 3 days. Anyone harvesting game should leave instructions in plain view for your packer directions to the animal if it is close or directions to where you are. You should also leave instructions as to any processing or taxidermy work you might want done. No game will be packed out without proper license attached, signed, and dated. Great care has been taken to see that you have a clean well set-up camp. We expect your camp and area to look the same when you leave. All garbage that can be burned should be, all cans should be crushed, and all remaining garbage needs to be in trash bags and ready to be packed out when you leave.